

Dialogue on

Just Governance

2016

12th February to 16th February, 2016 at Asia Plateau, India

Starting with evening tea at 4:00PM on 12th February and closing with lunch at 1:00 PM on 16th February

Nationally and globally we confront unprecedented challenges – the threat of runaway climate change, the largest number of refugees since the Second World War, widespread landlessness and economic inequalities, the growth of movements using extreme violence to achieve their aims

Governments cannot cope on their own. We need a whole new level of citizen responsibility.
Countries cannot cope on their own. We need a whole new level of global responsibility.

Many of us want to take responsibility, but we don't know how. This dialogue will examine how we can each play our part in creating a quality of just society adequate to meet the challenges we face.

It will focus on the human attitudes which are at the root of these challenges – apathy, greed, blame, fear of taking responsibility. We will hear people from many countries who are finding new attitudes, and are overcoming corruption, transforming conflict and pioneering sustainable living.

For further information please contact the Secretariat on secretariat@justgovernance.org

Building trust across the world's divides

Initiatives of Change

International Workshop on Ethics in Public Governance

17th February to 21st February, 2016 at Asia Plateau, India

Starting at 9:00AM on 17th February and closing with lunch at 1:00 PM on 21st February

A workshop conducted by ICCfG (Initiatives of Change Centre for Governance) (www.iccfg.net) will take place after the Dialogue. ICCfG works to strengthen governance capacity in the government, non-profit and public sector organizations with an extensive program of research into governance practices.

The participants at the workshop will include political, industrial and civic representatives from all around the world with an emphasis on Asian and African countries.

More Information about the Dialogue and Workshop

Costs including food and accommodation:

Foreign participants: US$ 60 per person per day

Indian participants Rs 3000 per person per day.

Any additional contribution will help subsidize those who are not able to cover full costs. Cheques may be drawn in favour of "Friends of Moral Re-Armament (India)." Donations are tax exempt under sec. 80G of the Indian Income Tax Act.

The venue, Asia Plateau is a 68 acre campus situated close to the town of Panchgani in the western hills of India overlooking the Krishna Valley. It has been a centre for introspection and dialogue since 1968.

For more details:

Asia Plateau, Panchgani - 412805, Maharashtra, India

Phone: +91(0)2168-240241 Website: justgovernance.org

Building trust across the world's divides

Initiatives of Change